OCTOBER 2017

The Black Cloud, and a Silver Lining....

You all have read of the myriad injuries and illnesses sustained by my imported New Zealand Thoroughbred gelding Billy. Space precludes listing all of them, but the highlights include trying to cut his fetlock off within one week of stepping off the transport trailer; pulling his suspensory ligament the day after we had a great clinic with Darren Chiacchia; developing EPM while we were in Vienna for a conference; and..well, you get the picture. That's why I call him the Black Cloud. If something bad can happen, it happens to him.

His latest brush with mortality is a very serious corneal ulcer on his right eye, necessitating an indwelling palpebral catheter and six-times-daily treatment with four different types of medications; all of which need to be given at precise intervals and followed by a poof of air to clear the catheter. This invariably causes him to toss his head and try to rub his eye on the nearest thing available, which is me. I stuff him with carrot bits while I do it, but even as food-motivated as he is you can see he is beginning to question the value of carrots when viewed in a cost-benefit relationship.

At least he is more or less reasonable to deal with when confined to a stall for a lengthy period. He's certainly had enough practice at it. If this had been Wolfie with the injury I am fairly certain that one or the other of us would be dead by now.

I'm not exactly what sure what punctured Billy's eye in the first place; usually my two guys are so inert that they don't move fast enough to poke things into parts of their body. Shrapnel would have to fly from the hay feeder to hurt them. As any good Pony Clubber knows though, that is why we are supposed to do a thorough check of all stalls, pens, pastures, arenas, etc. prior to turning horses out in them. If there is something there that can hurt a horse, eventually a horse will find it.

In this case, although the actual implement of injury is still a mystery, the cause for the sudden uptick in horse activity is not. After moaning about my horseless predicament in the last Load, several things have happened. Crystal has been sending me a parade of Facebook OTTBs in hopes of finding me a new partner. Lots of them were pretty, all of them were relatively inexpensive, and none of them were Clammy. Perhaps my insistence on another red-headed Thoroughbred mare was blinding me to the possibility of other nice horses-ones that I wouldn't constantly compare to my best girl. With a wider eye and a more open mind I started looking at any horses that caught my eye-and my interest. I have always been a sucker for a good story, and there are no better stories than racetrack stories.

I scrolled down Crystal's latest picks on my phone. A stoutly built plain bay gelding named Look Out Man stared back at me from the screen. Twelve years old and only fifteen three hands high, he raced for nine years, winning twelve races and over $150,000 but never a stakes race and never at a big-time track. He changed hands in claiming races several times, winning for different trainers under different jockeys at different tracks. He seemed to be the definition of a been-there, done-that sort of dude, and to cap it all off, his last owner (who was also the trainer) liked him so much that when he retired from racing they kept him on as a pony horse. His job was supposed to be to be the ultra-safe reliable horse for the owner's wife to ride on the track in her role as trainer's assistant. He'd only been on the job a few months when the wife was diagnosed with metastatic brain cancer and given weeks to live. The stable needed to be disbanded soon, and so Look Out Man was going off to home number whatever in his career.

I did like the horse immediately when I saw him, but the story gave me a more urgent reason to pursue him. This guy was a workhorse, one who knew his job, did his job, and seemed happy in his work. I decided to go ahead and buy him, and never mind that I owe a truly outstanding amount on my taxes this year and may have to subsist on saltines and government peanut butter for the rest of the year.

And that is when the next great thing happened. Amy told me while we were all sitting around after her lesson with Rosy and Crystal that she wanted to give me $1500 to buy this horse and get him here from Ohio. The three of them had been watching my interest grow in the horse and felt that he was the horse I should take a chance on. I was overwhelmed by this gesture from a lifelong friend and sister horsewoman, who knew that sometimes you just have to go with your heart, and your gut, and see where it leads you.

We won't know what he can do, beyond what he's already done, for several months now. But he walked off the giant horse transport, onto yet another unfamiliar turf with unfamiliar people, came right over to me to be petted and snuffed against me. Jimmy Wofford famously said that the horse you should buy is the one that makes you smile when you see his head over the stall door every morning. He's that for sure already. If he's more, so much the better.

Oh, and Billy's eye injury? A bit of a jealous rage, I fear. He hates any attention directed at another horse that could be directed at him. I imagine he spun around and snaked his head out somewhere he shouldn't have, and got a corneal puncture for his trouble. Knowing Billy as I do though I can't totally rule out the possibility that he did it on ;purpose, just to bring the focus back on him.

I'll keep you posted on Look Out Man. Until next time-

-Beth Hussey

CDCTA Meeting Minutes: September 18, 2017.

Meeting called to order at 7:34 p.m.

In attendance: Beth Hussey, Amy Stapleton, Lauren F, Karen Atwill, Tesa Sterchi, Mackie Blair, Lora Blair, Candace Kassel, Kim Kriekhaus, Rosy Erganian, Karin Loftin, Bill Wise, Leah Strid, Judy Owens

Approval of Minutes: Motion to approve August minutes made by Tesa and seconded by Rosy, motion carried.

Treasurer's Report: The account balance is $6,693.93. Motion to accept made by Beth and seconded by Judy.

Committee Reports:

Membership: The current number of members is at 34. The time to renew your memberships is approaching and dues can be paid to Kim. Membership forms can be found in the Newsletter and on the CDCTA website. Tesa made a motion to offer Crystal and Alyssa Kendrick a family membership. This motion was seconded by Kim and the motion carried.

Communications & Competitions: We would like to offer a big thank you to Rosy and Tesa for putting together a great Fall Schooling Show! Holger Bechtloff clinic will be at Greystone on October 14 & 15. The Haunted Hunter Pace will be at Fox Run on October 29. WWU will hold their Fall Dressage Schooling Show on November 4 & 5. The White Box Fox Run Schooling Show will be held on November 12 at Fox Run. Cosmic Oaks Farm will hold their dressage show on November 18, 2017. The Cosmic Oaks Show is for CDCTA members only. Points from the WWU, The White Box and Cosmic Oaks Shows will count for Year End Awards.

Special Events: For the 30th Anniversary celebration a venue, date and activity/exhibition need to be planned and set. Stephens Park in June is an option for the CDCTA to have a demonstration of dressage from the young riders to the Century Club members to highlight what a great foundation dressage is and from an Intermediate level test to Western dressage. It could also feature different breeds and be modeled after the Prince of Wales Show.

Education: The Carol Wilson Centered Riding Clinic will be held on September 30 and October 1 at Fox Run. Saturday the 30th has 15 rides and Sunday the 1st has 13 rides (ride numbers as of 9-18-17). The ride times will be out by September 26. Food arrangements are still being made. CDCTA members can audit for free and this will count as our October meeting.

New Business: The Christmas Party will be held at Lora's on December 8. The Awards Ceremony will be at D'Rowes in January.

Next meeting will be on November 13 at 7:30 at Angelo's.

Motion to adjourn by Beth and seconded by Kim at 8:09 p.m.

The 2017 Cosmic Oaks Farm Free Dressage Schooling Show!!
(Dressage and cocktails under the lights!)

To be held Saturday, November 18 at 4 p.m. at Cosmic Oaks Farm, 655 North Route O Rocheport, MO.

Judge: Ann McGruder, Columbia, MO

Still need a few scores for your CDCTA year-end awards? Want to try out a new horse, or pull an old horse out of the pasture to see what he can do? We are here to provide a friendly, welcoming atmosphere to some of our members and/or horses who maybe don't get to show very often, or don't want the pressure of a larger show.

Here's the best reason of all to come....IT'S FREE, AND FOR CDCTA MEMBERS ONLY!

So here's the deal: because it's free, it is only CDCTA recognized, not MHSA recognized. We also reserve the right to cancel the show at the last minute because of rotten weather, since prolonged rain will make our outdoor arena unusable and prevent trailer parking in our yard.

So if you want to enter, fill out the entry form below and send it in but please call the morning of the show if there is any doubt about the weather. Closing date is two days before the show (that's November 16) so we can finalize the schedule. Entries are strictly limited to 20 rides; and no horse/rider combination may show in more than 2 classes to allow as many people as possible to take advantage of this free show.

Please try to catch a ride with someone and fill up a trailer!! Our trailer parking space will be very limited!

Ribbons to 4th place, and very nice silver trophies to first place! Intro through training level tests one and two will be held in the small arena; training level test three and higher levels will be held in the large dressage arena. Warmup is on grass and is very limited. Some stabling may be available; please contact if you are interested. We will be using the 2015 tests. THE TRADITION CONTINUES: SPECTATORS AND COMPETITORS ARE WELCOME TO STICK AROUND AT THE END OF THE SHOW...WE PROMISE SOME SORT OF INTERESTING SPECTACLE (weather permitting)!!

Hard hats and horse-suitable footwear are required but we won't stand on ceremony. Half chaps are welcome and for goodness' sake don't braid!

Come give it a try! (We are using 2015 USDF Intro Tests and 2015 USEF Dressage tests)

Class 1: USDF Intro Level Test A

Class 2: USDF Intro Level Test A (Junior)

Class 3: USDF Intro Level Test B (Academy)*

Class 4: USDF Intro Level Test B

Class 5: USDF Intro Level Test C

Class 6: Training Level Test One

Class 7: Training Level Test Two

Class 8: Training Level Test Three

Class 9: First Level Test One

Class 10: First Level Test Two

Class 11: First Level Test Three

Class 12: Second Level and above Test of Choice

We will divide Class 12 if entries warrant. State which test you want to ride on entry form.

*Academy class is open only to horses used regularly in a lesson program and not owned by the rider.

Please include a copy of your horse's current Coggins test and mail entry to: Beth Hussey 655 North Route O Rocheport, MO 65279

Entries should reach us by November 16, 2017. Call-in or email entries will be accepted up until that date, but if the show fills priority will be given to mailed-in entries.

We will call or email you with ride times by Friday, November 17. Remember: If there is any doubt about the weather, please call 573-808-6897 to make sure the show is still on! Entries are strictly limited to 20 rides and will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

This show is for CDCTA members only. The rider must be a current member of the CDCTA for 2017 (the owner need not be). You may join CDCTA at our regular rates at the show and still be eligible.

I hereby release and hold harmless Beth Hussey and any of her agents harmless for any injury or loss suffered during or in connection with the Cosmic Oaks Farm Free Dressage Schooling show.

(signature) (parent or guardian must sign if rider under 21)

All entrants and spectators are welcome to join us after the show for dinner and bonfire in honor of Beth's 55th birthday!

NOVEMBER 30 IS THE DEADLINE TO REPORT YOUR SCORES IN ORDER TO BE ELIGIBLE FOR CDCTA YEAR END AWARDS.....

Be pro-active! Send your results from ANY recognized dressage show, horse trial or combined test; or from any USDF Recognized dressage shows or the CDCTA-sanctioned schooling dressage shows. These include all shows held at Fox Run or William Woods, as well as others that have been added throughout the year.

Send your results to Judy Owens by email at violet3@centurytel.net or mail to: 8601 Nature Lane, Columbia MO 65202

The best way to make sure that you are eligible for year end awards is to read our CDCTA Bylaws, posted on the website at www.cdcta.org. Go to the Get Involved tab, and then click on the Bylaws highlighted under Membership Information. There is a lengthy section on what tests and how many are needed for qualification, as well as clarification of the different levels and categories of awards.

Send all of your scores from the shows that you know count, and what you did for your six hour volunteer requirement.

WHAT? You haven't met your volunteer requirement yet? Well, fortunately there are still opportunities for you to do so coming up, and they are listed here:

- 1) Volunteer at the upcoming Cosmic Oaks Farm Free Dressage Schooling Show on November 18
- 2) Volunteer at the upcoming White Box Dressage Show at Fox Run on November 12 (YES, WE WILL ACCEPT THOSE HOURS FOR THIS YEAR!!)
- 3) Write an article for the November or December newsletter (must be submitted print-ready by the 25th of the month previous to publication) to eshussey@gmail.com

It is possible that some volunteers may be needed for the upcoming club Christmas party, or the Annual Banquet, but do not count on this; the help that is needed may not meet all of the hours you need! If you want to try to help with either of these contact either Lora Blair (Christmas party) or Tesa Sterchi (annual banquet)

Judy will notify award winners well in advance of the year-end banquet, and she is open to suggestions for potential awards as long as they fit within our budget. If you have ideas, let her know...and maybe let her know your sizes (you and your horse!) just in case!

We try to send in our year-end award winners to the Chronicle of the Horse. We need to have information in by December 15...but if you have a great photo of you and your horse in action, and you are one of our winners, send it to the editor of this newsletter at eshussey@gmail.com (make sure you have permission from the photographer, and submit that as well!) and you may see your picture in the Chronicle!
